

Compass Phone Lines

Phone lines. One of the first things connected when establishing a business. Often one of the last things regularly reviewed to ensure ongoing service efficiency and effectiveness.

Here at Compass, we have the capability to deliver a full range of competitively priced business lines fully tailored to suit the size of your operation, whether your need is for analogue lines, ISDN, Centrex or integrated VoIP (Voice over Internet Protocol) lines.

Review your communications portfolio today and Compass Communications is sure to save you money. By combining your fixed business line rental and calling on one Compass account, you'll also get the benefit of one bill and one point of contact, plus further savings through the Compass Rewards Programme.

Yes, it's worth reviewing your current service provider

Compass pricing is extremely competitive. Scaled to support businesses of all sizes, we truly understand the meaning of 'value for money'. Call us and we'll review your infrastructure needs, then recommend the best solution from a range of potential options.

In addition, you can achieve significant additional savings on the price of your business lines with the Compass Rewards Programme. Commit to spending an achievable amount on tolls each month, over the term of your agreement, and Compass Rewards will provide a useful rebate on the cost of your business lines.

We deliver solutions, not technology

Each solution in our portfolio answers a business need. We'll be sure to choose the right products for you, based on current and anticipated future requirements.

No hassle, minimal disruption

Making the switch to Compass will be easy. Your existing business lines can be transferred to Compass with no disruption to service and no change to your business phone numbers.

Analogue Lines

Analogue lines are the ideal choice for businesses needing standard phone services. Analogue lines can be configured with voicemail and 'Never Busy Fax'. They can be arranged as individual phone lines or grouped together.

Feature Analogue Lines

Feature lines provide all the services of analogue lines plus enhanced network features such as:

- Call Waiting
- Call Forwarding
- Group Pick Up
- Call Park
- Speed Dial
- Redial
- 3-Way Calling

ISDN Lines

ISDN lines are a high-speed digital service supporting voice, data and video services through a single digital connection. ISDN lines support a number of enhanced features including Direct Dial In (DDI), Caller Display and Gateway for free local calls between lines in the same group.

Centrex Lines

Centrex lines deliver the intelligence of a PABX, without the need to purchase or rent a phone system. Centrex offers the flexibility of adding or removing lines as your business evolves and allows you to be more accessible to your customers with Direct Dial In (DDI). Centrex is available on both analogue and ISDN lines.

Compass VoIP Lines

Compass' wireless network delivers high speed in both directions, making it ideal for high quality telephone and fax calls, as well as high speed broadband Internet. The service runs over our own wireless network on a licensed frequency, meaning we can assure you of top quality service delivery.
